

Feeding Fido: Real Food For Real Dogs

Presented by Mary Ferentino & Dr. Laurie Coger

Are you confused by the endless array of dog foods, all claiming to be natural or “holistic”? Frightened and frustrated by frequent recalls of so-called “premium” dog foods? Tired of mounting veterinary bills because your dog has repeated ear and skin infections, anal gland problems, or diarrhea? Or perhaps you’ve heard about the health benefits of natural diets for dogs, but think it’s too complicated and time consuming?

“You are what you eat” applies to your dog too! To be truly healthy, your dog needs real, whole foods – not by products, poor quality filler, and other objectionable ingredients. It’s easier (and cheaper!) than you think to feed your dog a natural diet. Join us to hear all about natural diets and raw feeding, and see how to easy it is to get started.

This will be a hands-on workshop, where you can see, touch, and compare a variety of food options.

Saturday, April 13 9:00 AM – 12:30 PM

Cost: $35

Coffee and snacks will be provided

Where: Good Dog Training Center, 30 Kraft Avenue,
Albany, NY, 12205

Name: _____

Address and Phone: _____

Email address: _____

Dog’s Name: _____

Breed: _____

Current Food: _____

Any health problems? _____

Call 518-446-1420 for more information, or to register with your credit card.

Visit the class website at CanineCulinaryAcademy.com

Sponsored by New York Australian Shepherd Association.